

News of the State In Condensed Form

Condition Quite Serious

The condition of Mrs. Sam Camphous, accidentally shot by her father, Mr. Price, with a 22-caliber rifle at the family ranch north of Tucson on the Rillito river Sunday afternoon, was reported as being quite serious. She is at St. Mary's hospital, where she was taken for an operation.

Purchased Eight-Cylinder Cadillac

J. J. Williams Jr., superintendent of the Nacozari railroad and manager of the Moctezuma Copper company, has purchased one of the new eight-cylinder Cadillac automobiles and will run on the tracks of the Nacozari railroad with it in the future. In the El Paso & Southwestern machine shops in Douglas this new Cadillac has been equipped with wheels to fit the iron tracks of the railroad and it will go to Nacozari this afternoon. With the car thus equipped it will be possible to exceed all engine speed between Nacozari and Douglas.

Death of "Tin-Can Johnny"

News received from Jerome Friday told of the death of John J. Simpson, familiarly known throughout Yavapai county as "Tin-Can Johnny," one of the most widely known figures on mining circles at Prescott during the past two years. Simpson died of a combination of diseases in the United Verde Hospital at Jerome.

Thieves Steal $25

Thieves broke through a rear window of the office of the Douglas Transfer company on G avenue Friday night and stole five bank bills which were soldered together and kept in front for the benefit of the messenger boys. They contained altogether about $25. It is thought boys committed the crime.

Killed By Fall

Partially undressed and coming downstairs at the Southern hotel at Douglas, for some unknown reason, George William McKnight, aged 33 years, fell headlong Friday night at 9:15 o'clock, expiring shortly afterward without having regained consciousness. It is believed that his neck was broken.

Teachers Institute Oct. 13

The teachers of the northern part of the state will hold a teachers institute at Prescott on October 13, R. B. von Klemm of the university will attend and speak before the institute.

Seriously Injured

Mrs. O. L. Yeager, and her niece, Mrs. Shannon, were seriously injured Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock in a run-away near the United States custom house at Douglas. One of the women raised a parrot and the pony, a nervous little animal, became frightened and bolted.

Girl Commits Suicide At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Oct. 1.—Her head buried in a pillow wet with chloroform and tears, charming young Ivy Billings was found dead on her bed in a downtown rooming house yesterday. Open beside her lay the letter telling of her mother's grief at her daughter's conduct and of her intention to end her own life.

The circumstances surrounding the death are particularly painful. The deceased girl came to Phoenix on Sunday last, leaving a husband in Calexico, Calif. Yesterday morning she received a pathetic letter from her mother in Calexico. There were seven pages, in which the mother, a deeply religious woman, expressed her grief over her daughter's relations with a man in Phoenix, winding up by telling her that she was heartbroken and meant to end her life.

The young woman was in the habit of drowning her "blues" in mild doses of chloroform, administered in the pillow. It is thought that her mother's grief on her account had wrought up the girl's nerves and that she made the mistake of an overdose of the anesthetic.

THURSDAY November Ballot Will Be Huge Affair

The official ballot at the November election will be a narrow sheet of paper, twenty-one inches wide and forty-two inches long. It will be an unwieldy and cumbersome affair. Across the sheet side by side in parallel columns the various party tickets will be placed. In the first column will be the list of state, county and precinct officers to be voted for. In the second column will be the democratic ticket, the third will present the progressive ticket, the prohibition ticket will be in the fourth, and the republican ticket in the fifth column, with the a list ticket in the sixth, the independent ticket in the seventh, and a non-partisan ticket in the eighth. Under the last two headings the ticket will consist mainly of blank lines and voting squares in which the voter may write names and make alterations.

At the head of each party ticket on the ballot there will be the usual square in which the voter can mark his X if he intends voting the straight ticket, and it will be counted straight.

But no voter should forget, that in voting the straight ticket in that way he will not vote for judges. They will be printed upon the ballot separate and apart, at the very top of the sheet, arranged in alphabetical order, with no designation of the parties represented by the respective candidates. The idea of that arrangement is that the election of the judiciary shall be taken out of politics so far as possible. While the various parties nominated their respective candidates for judges at the primary election in September, their names go upon the official ballot in November without any distinctive designation, and the voter has to pick his candidates.

The voter should bear in mind the foregoing, unless they do they will be apt to overlook voting for the judges.

FRIDAY Tombstonites Willingly Subscribe Race Fund

Tombstone's share of the big El Paso to Phoenix road race has been raised.

The committee comprised of Messrs. A. H. Gardner, Mayor W. F. Kuchenecker and F. A. Hughes, in a little less than one hour this morning, subscribed the fund, which was 20 per cent more this year than last.

No doubt the big race over the Borderland route will prove a winner this year, and local citizens and business men, realizing the great benefit that will accrue therefrom, subscribed willingly and substantially to Tombstone's share.

This will be one of the best advertising mediums the Borderland route can get, and especially this year, for soon the automobile tourists will begin coming through enroute to the big Panama-Pacific and San Diego expositions, and traffic will continue throughout the whole year. Nothing but benefit can come from such travel, and the historical surroundings and conditions here will afford a great amount of pleasure as well as interest to the tourists.

Messrs. Hughes, Gardner and Kuchenecker deserve credit for their quick work in subscribing the fund, and those who so cheerfully subscribed will not regret the cause.

Gilmore In Bisbee On County Business

County Attorney W. G. Gilmore motored over from Tombstone yesterday to attend to county business. His principal mission was in regard to the special assessment recently levied against property in Lowell to provide fire protection. It was necessary for the county to take a hand, as Lowell is no a municipality and in fact has no form of town or city government. Mr. Gilmore was accompanied by his wife and the two returned to the county seat last night.—Review.

LOST—September 24th. In Tombstone on the road between Tombstone and Bisbee, a sample case containing samples of canned goods etc. Finder please leave at Wicketts store and receive reward.

News And Views From The CAPITAL OF ARIZONA

(Issued by the Arizona News Bureau)

Harmony prevailed among the members of the three state central committees when they met at Phoenix for organization on Monday, September 29. All elections were unanimous.

Among the democrats there were several candidates for chairman, but by the time the committee met it was all arranged for Judge Frank J. Duffy of Nogales to be elected to that position. C. C. Thompson of Phoenix was made secretary-treasurer. Attorney General George Purdy Bullard was temporary chairman, and it was arranged that Assistant Attorney General Leslie C. Hardy should be named by the secretary-treasurer to take care of the committee's finances.

The republican committee made former Governor Joseph H. Kibbey its chairman, with Thomas Maddock of Williams as secretary, and Leonardo Moreno of Tucson as treasurer.

George N. MacBean of Phoenix is chairman of the progressive committee, and Paul Fernald of Tucson is secretary-treasurer.

C. B. Wood, for three years secretary to the state fair commission, is now postmaster of Phoenix. He took office on the 1st of October, succeeding James H. McClintock, who held the place over twelve years.

Mr. Wood has not entirely severed his connection with the fair, however. This year he will serve as superintendent of speed. Already he has secured entries which make it certain that more fast miles will be paced and trotted at the Arizona fair than at any other harness race meet this year. Among the pacers entered are: Jim Logan, 2:01 3/4; Don Pronto, 2:02 1/4; Leta J., 2:03; Walter Cochran, 2:04; Don Dinamore, 2:02 1/2. Among the trotters are Star Winter, 2:05; Peter McCormick, 2:08 1/2; King Clansman, 2:08 1/2; May Mark, 2:07; Albaloma, 2:08 1/2; Nurioto, 2:08 1/2.

The Arizona fair will open just after the close of the last race meet on the Pacific coast and of the big meet at Dallas, Texas. Most of the fast horses from the Pacific Coast, Grand and Great Western circuits will be sent on to Phoenix.

Congress has appropriated $65,000 for the survey of lands in Arizona during the fiscal year that began July 1. This is practically the same as last year's appropriation, but Surveyor General Frank S. Ingalls states that much more ground will be covered.

The art and literary department of the Woman's club of Phoenix has offered a prize of $20 for the best short story written by a person who has been a resident of Arizona not less than thirty days. Stories submitted must be between 2500 and 3000 words in length, and be in the hands of Mrs. C. F. Alsworth by October 31. The winning story will be published in a Phoenix magazine.

Frank H. Hereford has been reappointed chancellor of the state university by Governor Hunt. Last spring Mr. Hereford resigned and went to Europe with his family. During his absence Rev. L. W. Wheatley was chancellor, but he recently resigned and is now living in California.

The state land commission has made arrangements to sell another 15,000,000 feet of standing timber on university lands in northern Arizona. Bids will be asked, but the commission has already been assured that the minimum price acceptable under the law will be offered. It only the minimum is paid, more than $50,000 will be added to the university fund. Stockmen now pay more than $1500 a year for grazing permits on university lands.

Arizona will be well represented at Chicago, October 6, when the applications of the railroads for modifications of the intermountain rate order will be heard before an interstate commerce commission examiner. Corporation Commissioners W. P. Geary and F. A. Jones will attend the hearings, and they want as many Arizona shippers as possible to appear as witnesses. If the application of the railroads is allowed, they will be enabled to charge higher rates on a number of commodities to Rocky mountain points than are charged to Pacific coast terminals.

State Game Warden G. M. Willard is in the Graham mountains, spying out a range for a herd of between forty and fifty elk that will be imported from the Yellowstone national park next spring.

H. A. Davis, defeated democratic candidate for state senator in Maricopa county, filed a contest in the superior court and secured a recount of the vote cast in nine precincts. As a result of the recount, he gained 58 votes on Sam F. Webb, his successful opponent, but Webb is still 208 votes ahead.

Final arrangements have been made for the holding of a motorcycle race starting at San Diego, November 6, and ending at Phoenix, November 8, the day before the opening of the fair. The purse will be $1000, half donated by San Diego and half by Phoenix. To this will be added some money from entry fees and other sources. The entry fee has been fixed at $25.

A herd of Dutch belted and Ayrshire cattle from Mesa which Frank Reed Saunders is taking on a tour of the eastern fair circuit has won many firsts and other prizes in Ohio and Indiana. The cattle will be brought back to Arizona in time for the state fair.

Governor Hunt has named four delegates to the annual convention of the American Prison Association in St. Paul, October 5 to 8, and all will attend. They are R. B. Sims, superintendent of the state prison; Dr. W. G. Randall, prison physician; Rev. N. Suarez, Catholic chaplain at the prison, and Rev. J. W. Henderson, the Protestant chaplain.

THURSDAY El Paso Lands Motorbike Race

PHOENIX, Oct. 1.—At a conference of the motorcycleists and the Arizona fair commission, the northern Arizona motorcycle race to the Phoenix fair has been called off and the El Paso-Phoenix motorcycle substituted in its place.

The motorcycleists and commission pledged $250 for this race and the El Paso Motorcycle club has promised to raise an additional purse for the race.

This will run during the Arizona fair and will start in El Paso on November 6 and finish in Phoenix at the fair grounds on November 8. It will not interfere with the El Paso-Phoenix automobile future, which is the big event of the Arizona fair.

It will be seen by the foregoing that the Borderland Route is the real route.

FRIDAY Money Too Cheap: Causes Suspicion

DOUGLAS, Sept. 30.—A danger

Deer Season Opens Today

The open season for deer begins today, October 1 and yesterday Clerk Karger of the Board of Supervisors was kept busy issuing hunting licenses to local sportsmen who believe that the early bird catches the worm and plan to hike for the fall and uncultivated immediately. October 15 will inaugurate the open season for quail.

Look Out, Boys!

Chief of Police George Bravin, announces that beginning with tonight the curfew bell will ring at 8 o'clock for the winter months, instead of at 9 o'clock, as during the summer months. It therefore behooves the Tombstone youth to pay heed to the announcement of the 8 o'clock curfew, and see that he is home "safe with mama," or the "Chief will get you."

From Tombstone

Supervisor John Rock motored over from Tombstone yesterday on business.—Review.

Farewell Party

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Struthers, who left today for Phoenix, where they will make their future home, a farewell surprise party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Sande, and Miss Juanita Westervelt, at the Lockwood residence. Cards and games spent away the enjoyable evening. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and home-made candy were served. The following were those present: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Struthers, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Spark, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goodbody, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Parker, Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. B. Krebs, Mrs. Isaac Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Sande, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lockwood, and Miss Juanita Westervelt.

Water Main Repaired

Manager A. H. Gardner of the Huachuca Water Company, states that the pipe line crossing the San Pedro, which was broken several days ago, was completed today, and water is again running in the big million gallon storage tank on the hill.

THURSDAY Lawyer Cassidy On 80 Per Cent Law

PHOENIX, October 1.—In the discussion as to whether naturalized citizens of other states would be excluded from employment in Arizona if the proposed eighty per cent citizenship bill is made a law by the voters this fall, the legal talent of the state has been a little slow in expressing an opinion, taking refuge in the traditional stand that the law "must be interpreted by the courts." The unqualified statement made today by Lyssander Cassidy of the Phoenix bar is therefore welcomed by the many who are seeking light on this important point.

Answering the direct question whether the clause in the proposed law limiting employment in Arizona to 80 per cent qualified electors or native-born citizens of the United States did not mean qualified electors of the United States, and that all naturalized citizens of other states could therefore still secure employment here, Mr. Cassidy said:

"Strictly speaking, there is no such thing as a qualified elector of the United States. No citizen of Arizona could vote for a member of Congress or United States Senate unless he was qualified to vote for state officials." In the 80 per cent law the term "qualified electors" can certainly mean nothing else than elector, qualified to vote in Arizona.

"This proposed law certainly discriminates against naturalized citizens, and it seems very clear to me that it would be held unconstitutional if it ever came before the Supreme Court of the United States."

If Attorney Cassidy's contention is correct, the law will effect hundreds of residents of other states who have not yet secured a residence in Arizona as well as many others who come here to work during the rush seasons in the crop and other industries.

Both the city and county authorities report that on several occasions firebugs about the city have been tampered with and turned on by mischiefous youngsters. If caught, matters will go hard with the boys, and it is therefore up to the parents to restrain their children and keep them out of serious trouble.

FRIDAY Tombstone Primaries Tomorrow

Tomorrow, October 3rd is the date of the Tombstone city primaries, and while there are no contests on the various party tickets indications today are that a substantial vote will be cast. The polls will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and will remain open until 5 o'clock in the evening, when the count will be made. The polling place will be at the City Hall, and today the booths were erected.

On the Democratic ticket those who aspire for the nomination are as follows: For Chief of Police, Geo. Bravin, who has held down the office to the satisfaction of all for the past eight years is out for the re-nomination for the office. W. F. Kuchenecker, who has served faithfully and well as mayor of the Old Camp, has been induced by his friends to enter the race again for the place and he is out for the re-nomination. There are no aspirants for Councilman from the first wards or the third, while for the second H. L. Hutchison is out for the nomination, and for the fourth Wm. Cavanaugh is out for the nomination.

On the R-publican ticket no petitions for nomination were filed. However it is expected that there will be several names to be written in at the polls tomorrow.

On the non-partisan ticket no bids appears for mayor, and no one for councilman for the fourth ward, Geo. M. Wales is out for the nomination for Chief of Police, and K. B. Vallance appears on the ballot for councilman from the first ward, while for the second Lee O. Woolery for the past term city clerk and councilman from the fourth ward is out for the nomination. H. M. Eckerman aspires for the nomination for the third ward.

It will be seen from the above that no contests for the various offices exist but notwithstanding expectations are of a good vote.

Must Have Mail Boxes

Because mail carriers have been spending too much time going to side and back doors, the postoffice department has announced that people in Tucson must obey a regular rule of the postal regulations that directs all mail to be delivered at the front door and specifies that the resident must provide either a slot in the door or a regulation house mail box. Sixty days, or until December 1, is given the residents of Tucson to comply with the new order.

Grant Warner left last evening for Naco to witness the battle supposed to have taken place there last night or this morning.

Here from Gleason

Among the visitors in the city today were Messrs. Thomas Lannon, Constable Late Gibson, Barney Bono, Mike Michael, and W. H. Bostick of Gleason. The gentlemen came here this morning from Naco, where they went to witness the fight supposed to be had last night between Maytorena's men and Gen. Hill's men. They reported that when they left the American side last night that only firing could be heard on the outpost, and that the Yaquis had formed in line about a mile long and could be plainly seen advancing. That fighting was imminent either late during the night or early this morning could be plainly seen, they stated, as the Yaquis were advancing at a rapid rate. The American colored soldiers who are guarding the line are keeping close guard and are instructed not to let any of the combatants across the line cross to the American side.

THURSDAY Political Pointers

The Democrats at Phoenix selected from Cochise county for State Executive Committee, J. R. Henderson, M. F. Bane and C. M. Roberts, while the R-publicans named J. M. Ross and A. H. Gardner.

In the count of votes in the late primary the Republican and Progressive vote are interesting merely by their contrast. The average Republican vote was over 2700, the best was for Ralph Cameron for Governor, 3067. The average Progressive vote was about 700, the best being that for J. L. B. Alexander for Attorney General 747. Cameron's Progressive opponent, Mayor George U. Young of Phoenix, secured only 702 votes. The maximum Socialist vote was that for Davis as Senator, 293.

The combination Republican-Bull Moose ticket was filed from Cochise county this morning, it appears the alliance agreed on all offices excepting that of Superintendents, there being two on each ticket for that office.
